

GREEN FINANCE-OPPORTUNITIES AND RISKS

EMMANUEL RONDEAU

Tuesday-Wednesday
November 7-8, 2023

8 AM to 2 PM

RO 850/- per participant
(+VAT@5%)

CBFS, Boshar Hall

Key Learning Objectives

After attending this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the rationale for green finance and the regulatory framework.
- Follow industry trends and market dynamics.
- Design green finance products and advise clients on the technicalities of green products.
- Lead green finance activities and work in sustainable finance function.
- Understand and reduce the risk of greenwashing.

Contents Highlights:

• Part 1 - The market drivers for green finance

Financing the transition to a greener world, market trends, key industry drivers, risks and opportunities of green finance.

• Part 2 - Green bonds and green loans, tools and techniques

Technicalities of green finance, ICMA and ILMA principles, ESG ratings, case studies on actual green bond issues, the green premium challenge.

• Part 3 - Impact and project finance, tools and techniques

Technicalities of impact lending and green project finance, sectorial approach, specific risks and associated costs, key risk and performance indicators.

• Part 4 - The risk of greenwashing

Meaning of Greenwashing, legal and reputational impact; how to avoid greenwashing, the regulatory fight against greenwashing, case study

About the Speaker:

Emmanuel Rondeau Director of the Centre for Sustainable Finance at LIBF, Senior Advisor for Banking Studies, LIBF MENA. He is the Lead Director at La Banque Postale in France, where he chairs the Board Risk Committee and the Nomination Committee. La Banque Postale, 100% indirectly owned by the French State, is the first European bank and one of the first financial institutions worldwide to have its decarbonisation pathway recognised by the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi). It has won many other accolades, including from Vigeo Eiris, Sustainalytics and an A rating from the CDP. He has been active in banking for 35 years in Paris and London, with senior executive and non-executive roles in a number of leading banks, such as, Cr dit Agricole Group (France), ING Bank (Netherlands), Royal Bank of Scotland (Natwest Group, UK) .A member of the EDHEC Financial Economics Advisory Board, he s a regular trainer and keynote speaker for banks boards - most recently in Geneva, Tunis, Vienna, Washington, Bahrain - specialising in ethics, risk and governance.

For registrations and enquiries, please contact:

Ms. Khazina Al Bahri (22059812, 93956809)

Ms. Wafaa Al Musalhi (22059813, 99886654)